

While in the drag on his way to Farmville made this statement: "When you arrested me I had on the shoes which made those tracks. The witness also told about the arrest of Charlie Forbes in the night on the Norfolk and Western Railroad train, between Prospect and Farmville."

Mr. Flood cross-questioned the witness and compared his testimony with the preliminary hearing. Mr. Flood had before him the stenographer's report of the former trial.

Effort to Impeach Spencer.

Before dismissing Mr. Spencer, Mr. F. Burks, treasurer of Appomattox county and cashier of the Bank of Appomattox, was introduced outside of the regular order as the first witness for the defense. This was done because Mr. Burks was compelled to return home immediately. Mr. Burks was brought in to impeach the testimony of Spencer. He stated that Spencer told him after Woodbridge's arrest, that Woodbridge was writing a letter to Forbes when he was arrested. It was him, Spencer made it appear that it was Charles Forbes, while as a matter of fact, it was Peter A. Forbes, clerk of Buckingham county and brother of the late John S. Forbes. Mr. Burks did not have any personal knowledge as to Mr. Spencer's veracity.

The court adjourned at 6 o'clock to be reconvened to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock. There was a large crowd of interest to-day, larger than on yesterday. In the eyes seemed to be in evidence. If anything, the entire case is just as much a mystery as ever, even the lawyers are guessing. A number of humorous incidents occurred during the day. To make the time pass more pleasantly, a feature in the court-room was the presence of a number of very good-looking young ladies. There were also a number of professional men, preachers, doctors and visiting lawyers.

The trial of this case cannot be completed this week. It seems now that the Forbes case will not come up before next Tuesday or Wednesday. Woodbridge and Forbes are both kept closely confined in iron cages in the jail and are strictly guarded at night.

JAPS SWARMING ON MUKDEN

aroused the most bitter criticism of the government.

A Rome dispatch says the Italian government is inclined to sympathize with Great Britain, and will probably take the initiative in proposing an international conference to settle the disputed questions of the right of search and the right of any government to transform a merchant ship into an armoured cruiser upon the high seas, after having cleared her from a neutral or home port as a merchant vessel. Italy is in a good position to make this move, having no entangling alliances with any of the interested powers.

That the United States may be drawn into the difficulty is the belief expressed in many quarters, since the presence of the Vladivostok squadron in the Pacific became known. It is considered likely that these vessels may hold up and search American vessels bound for Japanese ports, and that the Washington authorities will undoubtedly protest against such action.

A dispatch from Liao Yang, which lacks confirmation, says a rumor comes from Tche Kiao that Kuroki is now marching on Mukden. Very little reliance is placed upon this, as Tche Kiao is hardly in a position to send such news to emanate from the situation at Port Arthur receives no attention in the day's news, but is believed to be unchanged.

JAPS BROKE THROUGH.

Severed Russian Flank and Now on Way to Mukden—Keller Reports Victory.

(By Associated Press.) LIAO YANG, July 20.—(Delayed in transmission).—The Russian eastern army attacked the Japanese on the other side of the valley of Liao River. Lieutenant-General Keller, after a hard fight, compelled the Japanese to retreat with great loss. General Hertschmann, July 19th, had a successful engagement, forcing the Japanese to retreat rapidly on their main force. The Russian losses were 200 men killed or wounded.

Bands of Chinese bandits have appeared in this neighborhood. They attack the Russian sentries.

It is reported that General Kuroki is suffering from malaria, and that he is suffering from a fever. General Oku, who is rumored to have resumed his advance beyond Kaichow. The Russians are expecting a battle.

(By Associated Press.) LIAO YANG, July 20.—(Delayed in transmission).—News was received from Tche Kiao yesterday that the Japanese had broken through the Russian left flank between Lieutenant-General Keller's position and that of General Hertschmann, and that they were marching on Mukden.

The rumors to this effect are persistent, but there is no official confirmation of them.

(By Associated Press.) LIAO YANG, July 20.—(Delayed in transmission).—General Hertschmann yesterday successfully effected a reconnaissance in force in the direction of Sikeyan, dislodging three battalions of Japanese. He held his position until evening and then retired with slight loss.

government was within her rights when she sent her toward a Russian port for trial by a Russian prize court. This belief, however, has failed to check the feeling of resentment against Russia and the anti-Russian element is still in the ascendancy.

CONFER WITH LANSDOWN.

Russian Ambassador Indicates That Czar Stands Ready to Do the Right Thing.

(By Associated Press.)

LONDON, July 21.—The Associated Press learns that Count Beckendorff, the Russian ambassador, at a conference with Foreign Secretary Lansdowne yesterday afternoon, made what may be considered to be a preliminary reply to the British protest against the seizure of the Russian steamer Albatross. The foreign secretary stated that his government had no intention of infringing on the rights of Great Britain or any other power, and that if a mistake had been made in the seizure of the Albatross, unquestionably the steamer would be restored and damages would be paid. The ambassador pointed out that it was unreasonable to suppose that the Albatross had been seized without the consent of the British government. He stated that the British government had no right to demand the release of the steamer, and that the British government had no right to demand the release of the steamer.

Unless this suspicion is effectively disproved the matter will have to go before a prize court, which procedure Great Britain herself follows. In the meantime Russia will make full investigation in her reports, which have been telegraphed for, and if this opinion is confirmed orders will be telegraphed to release the Albatross.

Twenty-one Japanese Bayoneted

(By Associated Press.)

ST. PETERSBURG, July 21.—General Kuropatkin, in a dispatch to the Emperor July 20th, says there has been no particular change in his sphere of operation. "Last night," the dispatch says, "our sharpshooters and Cossacks surprised a Japanese outpost at the village of Kiudanza, ten miles south of Ikhavuan. Twenty-one of the Japanese were bayoneted. Those who escaped were fired upon by mistake by the Japanese who came to their assistance."

SITUATION STILL GRAVE.

London Papers See No Abatement of the Troubles.

(By Associated Press.)

LONDON, July 21.—Twenty guineas per cent, was quoted at Lloyd's to-day for insurance against the outbreak of an Anglo-Russian war within three weeks. This is the rate which prevailed at Lloyd's on the Russian-Japanese war three weeks prior to the outbreak of hostilities.

The authoritative assurances that the Albatross will be released, cabled by the Associated Press from St. Petersburg to the United States, do not appear in the British morning papers. Special dispatches to a somewhat similar effect from St. Petersburg, do not allay the alarmist views of the leading organs, which continue Premier Balfour's post-midnight announcement that the government had received no confirmation of the reported release of the Albatross to mean that the incident remains unsettled.

Another cause for great apprehension is the broader question of Russia's right to send vessels of her volunteer fleet through the Dardanelles. A striking evidence that the danger of the situation has not been mitigated in the least, so far as the British official and public opinion is concerned, is offered by the Daily Telegraph, which, under a large type caption, "An Acute Crisis," declares that the relations between Great Britain and Russia have reached the stage of an acute crisis, but behind the larly surrendered she will be intercepted before she can pass the Straits of Gibraltar."

FLEET GATHERING.

British Cruisers Arrive at Alexandria—Others on the Way.

(By Associated Press.) ALEXANDRIA, July 21.—The British cruisers, Furios and Venus have arrived here. The remainder of the fleet is expected to reach this port shortly.

(By Associated Press.) VALETTA, ISLAND OF MALTA, July 21.—The British cruisers Leander and Lancaster, accompanied by three torpedo boats, despatched to reinforce the fleet to rejoin the Mediterranean squadron. The British cruiser Pyramus, the torpedo boat Albatross and the torpedo gunboats, Speedy and Harrier sailed to-day to join the fleet.

WILL BE RELEASED.

Malacca Will be Turned Over to England When Proper Assurances Are Given.

(By Associated Press.) ST. PETERSBURG, July 21.—5:10 P. M.—The Associated Press can state authoritatively that the Malacca will probably be released at once. The exact status of the case at present is as follows:

Count Benckendorff, the Russian ambassador to Great Britain, has asked for Lord Lansdowne's official assurance that the munitions on board were British government stores. If this is given, orders will instantly be issued to release the vessel.

At the same time, Great Britain will be notified that the ships stopped by Russia, whose manifests are not in order, will be held. Russia will maintain the status of the status of the Smolensk and St. Petersburg as warships. They are under the orders of the admiralty, and were commissioned by the admiralty's instructions. Under the regulations of the volunteer fleet, Russia claims that the ships belonging thereto can be converted into warships without previous notice, upon orders from the admiralty. When the Smolensk and St. Petersburg reached Suva on their way out, they received from the Russian consul the admiralty's instructions, commissioning them as warships.

Vladivostok Squadron.

(By Associated Press.) TOKIO, July 21.—A. M.—A fisherman reports that the Vladivostok squadron was off Miyako yesterday, going in a southeasterly direction at a speed of ten knots. If this course and speed is maintained the squadron will be off Yokohama late to-day. The eastern coast of Japan is shrouded in fog. Shipping has been suspended, awaiting the location of the Russian fleet.
